

Silhouettes of Empowerment

By Chloe Liu

In the mirror,
A reflection not just of beauty, but capability,
The potential of skills, minds, innovation, often unformed.
Yet, in each data point, a revolution unfolds,
Where femininity and ability, courageously hold.

From mother's womb I took my flight,
As a spring of female empowerment,
Echoed in the voices of sisters across continents.

Global graphs of female toil speak loudly.
We are not mere silhouettes of societal imprints,
But a creator, a worker, a change-maker,

The truths, the stories, the silent pleas,
Of women who work, strive, and believe.
For every daughter in every land,
Fights for equality, hand in hand.

Find our reflection, diverse yet aligned,
A global sisterhood, empowered and defined.
For the fight is not solitary,
But rising, resounding, in collective solidarity.
